FOUNDERS DAY CELEBRATION @NMITD

The Deccan Education Society (DES), is a star in the galaxy of educational institutes, having a 132 glorious years legacy imparting value based education for masses was since 1884. The founder's day of DES was celebrated on 9th August 2018 to pay respects to its illustrious founders, – Lokmanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak, Professor Vaman Shivram Apte, Gopal Ganesh Agarkar, Vishnushastri Chiplunkar and Mahadeo Ballal Namjoshi. This year founders day was celebrated by , its sister institutes in DES Mumbai Campus. Dr. Ravindra Kulkarni, honorable Pro Vice Chancellor of University of Mumbai, presided as the Chief Guest on the occasion.

Dr. Seema Sapale, Principal Incharge of Kirti College while paying her homage to our founding fathers, addressed the collective teaching and non-teaching staff of all the three Mumbai Campus institutes. She revived the glorious history of DES and the contributions of its founding fathers, and informed the gathering that even though the society was formed on 24th October, 1884, on Vijayadashmi, 9th August is a day, when Principal Vaman Shivram Apte, the first Principal of the Fergusson College, Pune and also the secretary of DES, passed away . In honor of his contribution, the Deccan Education Society has been observing the day (9th August) as Founders Day. Dr Ravindra Kulkarni, the hon'ble Pro VC of University of Mumbai, paid homage to the visionary founding fathers of DES. He then spoke on the general evolution of education system in India since independence up to now. He pointed out that currently we are amidst knowledge/information explosion where detailed knowledge on almost any topic is available to almost anyone on the click of a button. Nevertheless he argued that knowledge should be considered just the first step in our quest towards imparting education. Subsequent to the availability of knowledge what is necessary is the capability to grasp knowledge, what can be called as intelligence.

All educators usually work towards building this intelligence capability in their students. Further in this pyramid he delineated wisdom, as the capability to understand what knowledge and which intelligence is applicable in what circumstances; skills/skill-sets as the ability to apply the imbibed knowledge and acquired intelligence for solving practical problems, and the last and most important step as nothing but the will power and motivation that empowers one to use ones talent in a sustained manner in spite of all odds to overcome challenges.

He ended his speech, by exhorting all the gathered teachers to emphasize on all these different dimensions of education so that the resulting students does not only have knowledge and intelligence but also skills and wisdom and most importantly the will power to manage the learning process and emphasize on all these different dimensions of education so that the resulting students does not only have knowledge and intelligence but also skills and wisdom and most importantly the will power to make good use of these in even difficult circumstances.

Last but not the least, on this occasion of founder's day, the teaching & non-teaching community of DES Mumbai Campus was addressed by Advocate Mr Neel Helekar Sir, CDC Chairman Kirti College, as well as Member, Senate and Management Council, Univ of Mumbai. He expressed his astonishment in looking back at the illustrious 134 year long journey of DES. He mentioned that starting with only one school institute and now incorporating almost 59 institutes under its patronage, from schools, colleges as well as technical & management institutes spread across and even outside Maharashtra, is itself an accomplishment of great worth. In expressing his satisfaction that DES as a whole was able to fulfill the two major visions of its founding fathers in providing quality and inclusive education at low cost he at the same time pointed out that the third vision of nurturing nation-building student community is yet not addressed to the extent it should. He urged the gathered community to focus on fulfilling this vision henceforth to make sure that a sizeable proportion of DES students go on towards directly contributing towards social and nation building enterprises.

In concluding his speech Adv Neel Helekar Sir articulated that this founder's day is the right occasion to reflect upon the 134 year long journey of DES. As a Lion looks back occasionally to see how far he has as yet travelled, and to mark upon his future direction so should we, he urged, as a community of DES Educators. According to him if we reflect thus one realizes that keeping teacher-driven and physical class-room based education relevant in the face of the current technologically driven onslaught of online and virtual classroom education is going to be the next important challenge in front of us all. However he concluded with confidence that he is sure that DES teachers would never become irrelevant but rather by imbibing the complementary techno-pedagogic capability they would keep on contributing towards quality and inclusive education, for all. Prof. Mapuskar from Kirti college did an eloquent job of anchoring on the occasion.

Most of us are armchair environmentalists but NMITD guys are walking their talk! 30 MCA and MMS Students of NMITD along with the Student Council President, Mr. Mayur Naik and Student Council Secretary Mr. Vighnesh Khale and Faculty Member, Dr. Anita Bobade and Prof. Pritam Warke went to the Mahim Beach near Hinduja Hospital to work along with United Way Mumbai to volunteer for Mahim Beach Clean Up.

Every time they pulled out a deep-seated piece of plastic from the sand, we're reminded that our efforts - however sincere - are only scratching the surface. Long way to go before we return the beach its natural glory. Keep at it! Most of the students realized that the sea was full of plastic bags and little bottles and were informed by CEO, IS Mr. Indranil Sengupta that this could be recycled if they as consumers stack it and give it to the “radiwalla” for recycling. Students realized that most of the things which they use can be disposed of sensibly. A great learning experience!

United Way Mumbai's Team ably guided the student volunteers along with 6 experts from DOW chemicals who had come from USA. This activity was also supported by Solid Waste Management, MCGM, MCGM G/North Ward and our community partners, Mahim Beach Clean Up, Beach Please Participation by NMITDians in Beach Clean-Up of Dadar Chowpatty on 8th September 2018
