- Contact Person: Miss. Juhi (+91 9004994221)
- Reason and Objective of Visit: The reason for our visit to Freedom Farm, Citizens for Animal Protection Foundation was rooted in a shared passion for animal welfare and a desire to witness firsthand the impact of their dedicated efforts. Our objective was to gain insight into their compassionate work, understand the challenges they face, and explore avenues for collaboration. With hopeful hearts, we embarked on this journey, eager to witness the profound difference they make in the lives of animals in need.
- Experience and Learning: Visiting Freedom Farms, Citizens for Animal Protection Foundation was an eye-opening experience that left a deep impression on our hearts. The farm was bustling with life, hosting a diverse range of animals including dogs, donkeys, cats, sheep, and bulls. As we walked among them, we witnessed both the struggles and the resilience of these creatures.

Some dogs were undergoing treatment, their eyes reflecting pain yet hope for healing. Others displayed aggression, a testament to the emotional wounds they carried from past experiences of abandonment or mistreatment. We also encountered animals with disabilities or handicaps, bravely navigating their surroundings with unwavering determination.

One touching moment stood out amidst the challenges - a dog, overflowing with love and longing for affection. As we hugged other dogs, he approached us, seeking reassurance and companionship. It was a poignant reminder that animals, like us, crave love and connection. This simple yet profound interaction highlighted the importance of compassion and understanding in our relationship with animals.

Through our visit, we learned that every animal has a story, a unique journey shaped by their experiences. Freedom Farms serves not only as a sanctuary for these animals but also as a beacon of hope and compassion. Our experience reinforced the significance of advocating for the welfare and protection of animals, ensuring they receive the love and care they deserve.

ISR ACTIVITY REPORT

- Name of NGO: Jan Vikas Society Mermier Bal Ashram
- Address:
Plot No.18A, Mermier Bal Ashram, Bonkode Village Marg, Sector 11, Kopar Khairane, Navi Mumbai, Maharashtra 400709
- Cause:
Spending time with the children, you provided them with much-needed emotional support. The drawing competition and book balancing game helped the children develop their creative and motor skills. These activities can also foster problem-solving skills and strategic thinking. Playing Kho Kho, a popular traditional Indian sport, encouraged the children to engage in physical activity, which is essential for their health and well-being. By interacting with the children, you helped them improve their social skills. Your donation to the NGO will help support their ongoing efforts to rehabilitate street children. This can include providing education, healthcare, and other necessary services.
- Website Link: <http://www.mermierbalashram.in/>
- History: Jan Vikas Society (JVS) is a charitable trust registered under the Bombay Public Trust Act 1950 bearing registration number F – 18867/ Mumbai. It's pioneering work commenced in 1996. JVS is the first organization that committed itself to the care and development of street-children and rag pickers in Navi Mumbai.

Working with and for street children towards a better present and brighter future in a more just, equitable and humane society is imprinted as the vision of Jan Vikas Society. The mission of the Society is stated as 'rescue, redress, rehabilitation through empowerment and self-reliance, generated by awareness and achievement, made possible by legal assistance and capacity building, in co-ordination with competent authorities and networking with specialized agencies.

Society aims not only at the welfare of underprivileged children but also lays emphasis on identifying and developing the innate potential of each child and making them to stand on their own feet.

- Reason and Objective of Visit:

As responsible citizens, it's important to give back to the community. Visiting the ashram and spending time with the children is a way of fulfilling this social responsibility. By visiting the ashram, you gain firsthand experience and awareness of the challenges faced by street children and the importance of rehabilitation centers like Mermier Bal Ashram. Such visits also contribute to personal growth, as they can help develop empathy, compassion, and a broader perspective on life.

Your visit and donation provide much-needed support to the NGO, enabling them to continue their work in rehabilitating street children. The activities you conducted were aimed at engaging the children in a fun and educational manner. By organizing these activities and distributing gifts, you aimed to bring joy to the children and encourage their participation.

The games and activities were also designed to help the children develop various skills, such as creativity (through the drawing competition), balance and focus (through book balancing), and teamwork (through Kho Kho). By interacting with the children, you aimed to build friendly relationships with them, making them feel comfortable and cared for.

- Experience and Learnings:

Joy of Giving: The happiness and satisfaction derived from giving, be it in the form of time, effort, gifts, or financial aid, is a unique experience. Seeing the smiles on the children's faces when they received the gifts would have been a rewarding experience.

Interacting with Children: Interacting with the children, understanding their world, their dreams, and their challenges would have been an enlightening experience. It would have given you a different perspective on life.

Teamwork: Organizing and conducting the activities required teamwork. This would have been a great experience in working together towards a common goal. Empathy and Understanding: Interacting with the children and understanding their struggles would have increased your empathy and understanding towards less privileged sections of society. Importance of Education and Skills: Conducting drawing and book balancing activities would have highlighted the importance of education and skill development in changing the lives of these children.

Value of Time and Effort: Organizing the visit, conducting the activities, and interacting with the children would have taught you the value of time and effort in making a difference in others' lives. Gratitude: Seeing the challenges faced by the children would have instilled a sense of gratitude for the privileges and opportunities you have.

ISR ACTIVITY REPORT

Name of NGO - Cartercleanup

Address - Carter Cleanup, 71, Sangeet Samrat Naushad Ali Rd, Union Park, Pali Hill, Mumbai, Maharashtra 400050

Cause -Beach cleaning initiatives play a pivotal role in safeguarding our oceans and marine life. Each year, vast amounts of plastic waste and litter threaten coastal ecosystems, endangering wildlife and marine biodiversity. By engaging in beach cleanups, volunteers actively combat this environmental crisis, removing harmful debris before it further pollutes our waters. These efforts not only preserve the natural beauty of our shorelines but also raise public awareness about the urgent need for waste reduction and responsible consumption. Through community-led actions and organized cleanups, we can protect marine habitats, promote a sustainable future, and ensure cleaner beaches for generations to come

Contact Person – 09867706945(Nupur Agarwal)

Date – 24th June 2023

Reason and Objective of Visit - The primary reason for our visit is to participate in a beach cleaning initiative aimed at preserving marine ecosystems. With increasing concerns about plastic pollution and litter on our coastlines, it is essential to take proactive steps to protect our oceans and wildlife. Our objective is to actively contribute to the cleanup efforts, removing debris and waste from the beach. Our visit also serves to raise awareness among participants and the community about the impacts of pollution on marine environments, fostering a sense of responsibility and environmental stewardship. Together, our visit for beach cleaning embodies a commitment to environmental conservation, promoting a cleaner, healthier planet for current and future generations.

Experience and Learnings - Participating in the beach cleaning initiative was a profound experience that left a lasting impact on our team. As we combed through the sandy shores, picking up plastic bottles, tangled fishing lines, and assorted debris, we witnessed firsthand the alarming extent of pollution plaguing our oceans. The sight of sea birds struggling amidst trash and marine creatures entangled in discarded nets was a poignant reminder of the urgent need for action. Our hands-on involvement not only contributed to a cleaner beach but also provided valuable insights. We learned about the types of waste prevalent in coastal areas and the detrimental effects on marine life. Moreover, the collaborative effort with fellow volunteers fostered a sense of camaraderie and shared responsibility for our environment. This experience emphasized the importance of individual actions in collective environmental preservation. It highlighted the power of community-led initiatives in raising awareness and instigating change. We leave with a renewed commitment to reducing plastic use, promoting recycling, and
