Introduction

National Conference on Management and Technology (NCMAT) is an annual management conference organized by PTVA's Institute of Management (PTVAIM) & Navinchandra Mehta Institute of Technology and Development (NMITD). NCMAT 2023 aims at bringing together academicians, researchers and practicing managers to deliberate on business paradigm & practices: management, technology & transformation to businesses in modern era.

In the midst of this turbulent transformation of work, workplace, and workforce, NCMAT 2023 offers a forum for the exchange of knowledge, ideas, strategies, and information. The conference aims to promote research and theory development, thereby strengthening the scientific foundations of the management discipline. Plenary sessions will be delivered by eminent academicians, industry leaders as well as paper presentations by research scholars, academicians and corporate executives.
